The Occupational Health and Safety policy and resultant procedures are developed in consultation with employees via our Occupation Health, Safety and Environment Committee. The OHS&E committee meets every quarter to review our system and any OHS&E events which may have occurred . Our procedures are promoted, and monitored by the Directors and Senior Management team, as well as individuals. All employees are inducted into our OH&S system at the time of employment.

The Management team recognises their responsibility to develop, implement and keep under review, all policies, procedures and guidelines developed for maintaining the health and safety of all Bright Print Group employees, subcontractors and visitors.
